|| Community || Belsize Creates On England's Lane: Because Humanity Creates Communities ||

|| Wednesday: September 27: 2023 || á. England's Lane. Outside number 28 the Royal Mail post box stands quietly like all other red post boxes in London; except, this one has two very special claims: one that it is an NHS Priority Post Box because it is just outside the local community pharmacy, Allchin and, second that concerns today's story that it is a living-breathing community art gallery! Since the community group, Belsize Creates, that meets at the local Belsize Community

Library on every Wednesday, between 13:00 and 16:00, came to put up their latest display today. And they create all kinds of beautiful knitting works, which they have been displaying over and around the physical body of this post box on a regular basis.

They generally work on a specific themed project for a period of time and, once completed, the Group brings the art work to the post box and taking the old display down, which may have been there for few weeks, they put up the new one.

The last display was taken down a couple of weeks ago and the post box looked bare, lost and forlorn and the local community and the passers-by, were asking whoever they could as to what happened to the display because it had become part of the way of England's Lane! People did not know quite what happened to the display and why there was no new project displayed. Today the answer came since the group arrived with their new materials, created over the last few weeks: to save the fish! Global warming and climate change is impacting on every form of life but lives in marine and other water bodies living things are facing the brunt of it all more than others and things are getting really serious.

This presentation today is about saving fish. It was a beautiful body of work and the group members patiently kept at the task of a few hours, putting the display over and around the post box, that still did not budge. It did not speak but every minute it brightened a little more and were it to be human it would burst out with joy! But the humanity, that created it, were happy creating each of these little members of the fish community and they created it as a community of humanity and each member put her imagination, creativity and ingenuity and her skills and craft-personship in creating these items. And in putting up this display they enjoyed human company and relations with fellow humanity passing by and watching.

And as there was much joy doing that together, as well as, enjoying the fellowship, companionship, friendship and humanionship among the group members, it is, even, more heart-warming that they wanted to share this with the community. That was why they brought it out and declared the post box a living-breathing community art gallery! Over these past months there had been much displays and everyone passing would stop with their children, with their dogs, with their family members, workers and passers-by passing through, everyone stopped, looked, admired and praised the people, women behind this beautiful display of creativity and sense of community and connection. We have spoken with the members of the group earlier today and here we present their work for everyone to enjoy and tell the others to start doing something. Just tell them: do something! Start something, that brings real people together in reality, make them into community and they, as, Belsize Creates', Caroline says, "Knit the Community Together!" We need to, desperately, desperately, desperately, 'Knit the Community Together'!

Caroline writes on a small piece paper: "Come and create things with us. Materials are available. It is always fun. Belsize Creates is a local arts and craft group at Belsize Community Library, Wednesdays: 13:00-16:00. We Are Knitting the Community Together." And they are around the silent post box, witnessing humanity's existential necessity to create beauty, create art but with it, vitally, create human connections, human bonds and human relations, make friendship and craft humanionship between and among humanity and, most of all, create joy of being and doing human! And give it all out like the luminous human enterprise of infinity, that we ought to unfold.

Join Belsize Creates and do not forget to take a detour and walk through England's Lane and see their beautiful art work display on and around the silent post box and be inspired to tell whoever you meet: do something beautiful! Just start something, anything, for as humanity we ought to create our very humanity with our infinite imagination, creativity and ingenuity with our fellow humanity and once done we are a beautiful thing, this humanity, what we call humanity naturale because only then we are an infinity unfolding itself! We are all-for-one-one-for-all. ::::ω::::

Humanics: All-For-One-One-For-All

|| Selfishness Is the Most Definitive Way to, Absolutely, Harm One's Very Own Self, As Well As, Everyone and Everything Else: In Other Words, Selfishness Is Nothing But Absolute, Complete and Comprehensive Absence of Questioning or Thoughtfulness or Consideration, Which Makes Us Think and That, Thus, Enables Us to Reach the Rational Base and Foundation in Life and in Existence: This Means That Selfishness, Actually, Is a Terminal Enemy of the Agency of the Human Mind, Which It Keeps on Tearing Away and Apart by Being Devoid of Questioning and Thoughtfulness Because the Very Agency of the Human Mind Is a 'Structure', Created by the Architectonics of the Architecture of Human Rationality, Which Requires a Human Agency of the Human Mind to Put It to Use by Thinking, Questioning, Consideration, Analysing, Learning and Developing, All of Which Selfishness Terminates: Humanics: Humanics: All-For-One-One-For-All ||
